Over The Years

Founder Chairman's Message

URIVI VIKRAM
(18th JAN. 1970 - 13th Dec. 1990)

A young man with Great enthusiasm, novel thoughts and a wide vision, Vikram met with a fatal accident when he was almost 21. An ardent believer in justice and fair play, Vikram had a passionate Zeal to usher in a society free of corruption and nepotism. The UVCT Mission is to fulfill Vikram's cherished ambitions.

Dear Friends,

With kind cooperation and active support from all of you, Vikram Trust entered into 25th Year. We are happy that the functioning of the Trust could be carried on continuously despite some times, the resource crunch and some other times, crisis in man power. Even the social workers have started insisting on their 'pay packages' while getting interviewed. Problem of emoluments arise especially in case of government-funded projects where the ceilings are set at 'pre-minimum wage' times, and thus, are comparatively low. Even if they agree to join with the offered emoluments, they do not hesitate moving away for just 5 to 10% increase in their emoluments. Initial efforts of the NGO to orient them for their specific tasks go waste and we wonder, how long they keep moving on and what would be their ultimate accomplishment.

NGOs with good standing are turning into social enterprises whereas mediocre organizations are either becoming defunct or taking to mere paper work. Two years ago, we thought we should also take to the model of 'social enterprises', but soon realized that our target population, being deprived and marginalized segments, cannot meet bigger demands of fees and perks. We noticed a stark reality in the recently concluded 'IDBI Capital - UVCT Comprehensive programme for Financial services', wherein the stipulated fees of Rs 600/- for a 45-day intensive course and another Rs 600/-, for executive attire (on concessional rates) was found too much by the prospective candidates. As such, we had to overlook the use of executive attire. We, having been committed to social service, may have to carefully keep a balance between income and expenditure.

The Year 2015-16, went off well with our projects. The projects under CSR initiatives of IDBI Bank Ltd and IDBI Capital Services gave us a big boost, besides the STEP programme for training 140 women in "Stitching, Tailoring and Embroidery", of Ministry of Women and Child, GOI. All these programmes have linkages to livelihoods and thus, the outcomes are quite satisfying. We are grateful to Principal and Management of K. V. Penderkar College, Dombivli, Thane District, who helped in designing and conducting a special course "SAIME (Soft Skills, Awareness, IT, Management & Entrepreneurship Development)" for 50 educated but unemployed youngsters, in pursuance of an MOU entered with that college. We are also thankful to the Canara Bank and Andhra Bank, whose teams continued with their short term courses in UVCT Centers, which have been found very useful.

Once again, I like to end thanking my wife, Urivi Chaya, who is also the Vice Chairman controlling the expenditures of the Trust; my other active Executive members and numerous other well wishers and funders. They all give me strength to carry on with these responsibilities.

Our TRUST, Urivi Vikram Charitable Trust , as you are kindly aware, has been striving for the last 24 years , with a mission to find ways and means to transform our ever-growing population of India from a "Burden of Population" into an "Asset of Human Resources" and thereby , help in ensuring better utilization of India's demographic dividend.

UVCT believes in strengthening the young adults of the nation through "empowerment" rather than "control", and endeavours to help drop-outs, under-achievers, and children in conflict with law to become socially responsible and economically productive citizens of India and the world. UVCT has achieved these objectives through its 14 centers operating in 6 states of India and alliance partners. UVCT has also achieved creditable success in programmes for women empowerment and in spreading awareness to tackle the menace of HIV/AIDS. We are specially thankful to our donors and government organisations, without whose help, we could not have organized such a pan-India presence.

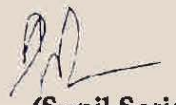

Honorable Prime Minister of India Shri Narendra Modi has been emphasizing on skill development for National building and Gareebi Hatao. In this direction, UVCT started conducting since 1995, skill development courses to help all sections of Society, irrespective of gender, caste and creed. We are particularly happy that our skill courses are utilized mostly by female participants, and thus in our own way could contribute to the Nation's mission for " Beti Bachao and Beti Padoo" .

I fondly remember and reiterate the words of Great Saint Ramkrishna Paramahansa , to quote,

" Diamond cannot be polished without friction . Gold cannot be purified without fire . Good people go through trials, but don't suffer. With that experience, their life becomes better , not bitter ... If you look outside you will not know where you are heading . Look inside - Eyes provide sight and Heart Provides the way ... Success is a measure as decided by others . Satisfaction is a measure as decided by you.

Face your past without regret . Handle your present with confidence . Prepare for the future without fear. Trust me , Life is wonderful if you know how to live."

With the able guidance of our Founder and Chairman , Dr UNB Rao , and our dear "Maa", Smt Urivi Chaya, who both have creditable vision and mission. UVCT with its excellent past record, will continue to have success in coming years also. I most respectfully thank all my colleagues at the UVCT, present and past, for their valuable contribution towards the lives of all citizens of India

About Urivi Vikram Charitable Trust

Vision

UVCT has been striving to work for the development of adolescents and young adults. It believes in strengthening the young adults of the nation through “empowerment” rather than “control”, and bringing into mainstream drop-outs, under-achievers, and children in conflict with law, especially those belonging to marginalized and deprived sections of society. It is UVCT's mission to help these children to become socially responsible and economically productive citizens of India and the world.

With a growing population, India continues to be an effervescent vessel brimming with fresh ideas and ambitions. UVCT's vision is to find ways and means to transform this ever-growing population of India or this “Burden of Population” into an “Asset of Human Resource” and thereby, help in ensuring better utilization of India's demographic dividend.

Mission

Urivi Vikram Charitable Trust (UVCT) is a non-governmental and non-profit organization that was established in the year 1991 by Dr. UNB Rao and his wife, Ms. Urivi Chaya, with the support of a few well-wishers. UVCT was founded in the fond memory of Dr. Rao's only son, Mr. Urivi Vikram, who lost his life at a prime age of 21-22 years., in a fatal road accident in Delhi. The Rao's family tried to reverse the arrow of sorrow that had hit the family unexpectedly, by working for the empowerment of adolescents and young adults. UVCT has been working with this mission for the last 24 years, through programmes of psychological counseling, career guidance, life skills education and skill development, in its 14 odd centers spread in 5 stage of India. UVCT could make a difference in the lives of more than one lakh young people end linked them to livelihood.

Objectives

Develop awareness through seminars, group discussions and camps to help young adults find solutions to their problems- psychological, financial, ethical and social.

Help acquire a realistic value system that is conducive to the development of a healthy society and to develop the concept of oneness of all religions and love for the homeland in the youth, by raising their level of consciousness.

Develop educational and skill training programs for school dropouts and underachievers, to enable them to become not only economically productive but also socially responsible citizens of India and the world.

Develop counseling centre's for the disturbed youths; and to establish rehabilitation centre's for juvenile delinquents to provide both emotional support and skill training.

Develop skills among the young adults and women, in regard to textiles, handicrafts and other ancillary industries.

Endeavor to promote equality of status and opportunity, assuring dignity of individual and the unity and integrity of the Nation, services for the hygiene, health and happiness for all the citizens of India.

Provide Financial Literacy for youth and women in backward communities for employment and formal banking related awareness.

Advocacy

UVCT actively advocates that adolescence is a “distinct and critical stage” of human development and that there should be more specific schemes, in a coordinated manner, for promoting development of adolescents. UVCT undertook a pioneering advocacy campaign, with several other NGOs and government organizations, for appropriate development of the adolescent population in the country. Its initiative came at a time, to be realistic, when very little had been done on the adolescent agenda. To overcome this lacuna, a National Consultation was held in 1999 on the theme “Towards a policy for young Adults”. The Meet resulted in the compilation of an Advocacy document for a “National Policy for Young Adults”, which was submitted to the Government of India and the Planning Commission of India. Constituted the first-ever Working Group, including UVCT as a member, which duly brought out a “Report on Adolescents” (2001). In continuation of this initiative, UVCT organized a Regional Seminar in 2002 on “National Policy on Adolescents”. It resulted in the first exclusive Scheme of Financial Assistance for Development and Empowerment of Adolescents, in April 2014, with the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports as the nodal agency [unfortunately, the scheme lost its identity and got subsumed into an omnibus “National Programme for Youth and Adolescent Development” (NPYAD).] However, UVCT's relentless persuasion and campaign culminated in a joint action by the government agencies and the private organizations in holding the second National Meet in 2005 on “Adolescents: Vision 2020”, in a bid to identify the demand-supply gaps. Various government, bilateral, and donor agencies have since eventually incorporated adolescent concerns in their policies and programmes for further development. Yet another National Seminar was held by UVCT in May 2015, on the theme” Demographic Dividend : Challenges of Young People in India”, in order to take stock of existing plans and programmes for empowerment of young people and come up with required action plans.

UVNAC

In 2007, the Urivi Vikram Charitable Trust (UVCT) established the Urivi Vikram National Centre of Adolescents (UVNAC) at Dwarka, New Delhi, to carry forward its mission to champion the concerns of the adolescents. This is the India's first Adolescents centre where Psychological support, Career Guidance, and Life skill training is provided to the India's future population. UVNAC is also the National Operation office from where the activities of all the six chapters of UVCT are taken care.

Highlights of the Year

National Seminar on "Demographic Dividend"

UVCT organized a National Seminar, which was partly supported by the Min. of Health and Family Welfare, Govt. of India, on Wednesday, May 6, 2015, in the India International Centre, Max Muller Marg, New Delhi - 110 003. The theme of the seminar has been "Demographic Dividend: Challenges for Young People in India". Demographic dividend, as has been realized, is the accelerated economic growth that results from decline in infant and child mortality, and consequential rise in the number of young population - usually 14 to 30 years - in a country. This is accompanied by an increase of the people of the working age-group (14-65 years), creating opportunity to have less number of economically dependants at household levels. Ratio of working age to dependent population in South Asia, more so in India, is expected to increase for the next 15-20 years, followed by gradual downturn. However, India has not been able to fully reap the advantage of its large stock of population of workable age. Industries, on the other side, are struggling with scarcity of skilled workforce. Progressive actions are needed to take care of future basic minimum living standards including food, water and energy of this promising workforce. Investing in young people, by providing education and employable skills, is critical for their effective utilization.

The Objectives set out for this Seminar have been : Take stock of the policy frameworks on youth development opportunities; Explore potentials of young people for economic and social progress for a common future; Analyze the problems and needs of young people highlighting the core issues, including education, health, mental health, crime, role of parents, teachers and other stakeholders in guiding them; and develop roadmap for the development and empowerment of the young people in the context of targets set to achieve by the year 2022.

Smt. Vandana Kumari Jena IAS, Secretary, Department of Land Resources, Ministry of Rural Development, was the Key note Speaker of the Seminar. Shri. Sunil Arora, IAS, Secretary, Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, Govt. of India, was the Guest of Honor. IDBI Capital CSR Initiative

IDBI Capital supported UVCT to conduct Financial Literacy Comprehensive Skill Development Programme to train underprivileged young adults. The one year project was carried out during the last fiscal to develop underprivileged in the area of Tagore Garden and Bindapur, West Delhi. The six-week training programme helped 500 students to reach to an economical independency by being employed, through the placement guidance, in the financial and insurance sectors.

Tagore Garden Skill Development Centre

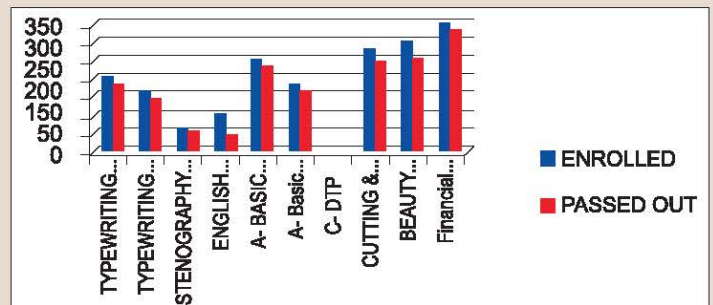

UVCT Skill Development Centre at Tagore Garden, West Delhi continued to serve the underprivileged population in the area. It is the 18th year of commitment for the people at Tagore Garden and nearby localities. A total of 1888 students were benefited in this fiscal. The majority of the population in the area are migrants who are from different states came in search of jobs and settled in the area. Middle and low income families are facing difficulty to send their children for higher education in regular colleges. Many such children pursue their studies through correspondence courses and simultaneously try improving their employable skills. School drop outs and unemployed are a common factor of the area, for whom UVCT has been striving to improve their livelihoods. The highly subsidized fees structure (e.g a fees of Rs 1000 for a three month computer applications course, whereas the market rate is Rs 5000 and above) is enabling them to avail these vocational programmes. A Library cum Reading room facility is also created in the premises with the support received from Canara Bank. The UVCT Staff and student volunteers were committed to make a difference in the lives of the underprivileged. A number of officials and local leaders visited the Centre during this fiscal and encouraged/ supported the developmental programmes of UVCT.

Out of total Number of 1888 trainees, 87.07% passed out and certified in their respective courses.

The above diagram shows the commitment of UVCT in women empowerment. Reaching to women in the community through various means to improve them economically and socially through the skill development, is the mission of UVCT, that is being fulfilled year after year.

The age breakup confirms that young people in the age group of 14 to 17 yrs are also eager to build their skills alongside their school education, while those who are in age of 17 to 23 yrs are in post-school level - mostly drop outs and underachievers -who are encouraged to improve their employable skills. Computer applications is the most popular course, followed by Beauty Culture. The participants in the age group of 23yrs and above are mostly married women who are keen to supplement their family incomes.
